

FOLLOWING FLORA'S FOOTSTEPS

Imagine Flora, a young girl living as a slave in the quarters at Kingsley Plantation. Every day she has certain chores that she must do for the plantation owner. Most days she begins at sunrise and finishes at sunset. Follow Flora's footsteps today to find where she has been, and what tasks and activities she has done.

Identify each location by finding the following numbers on the plantation map and describe what she could be doing there. Use what you learned during your visit to Kingsley Plantation to think of Flora's activities.
